

Passport to Politics – Starting A Level preparation transitional work

This transition work consists of some worksheets with accompanying Powerpoints and Politics Review Articles to support the learning. Obviously this is not as interactive as typical lessons but I hope that completion of these activities will help keep your brain active, engage you with the course and provide you with an excellent head start to A Level Politics. Please do save all your work as it will form part of your study folder in September and link into the first topics we cover.

If you spread some activities over more than a week then that is fine, this is really an approximate guide to the length. However, it should not take up more than 4-5 weeks of your time, leaving you lots of time to hopefully enjoy the summer.

I would also advise you to download the BBC app on your phone so you can access daily national and international news. You can also follow my Politics Twitter page which can be accessed on the TGGS website under Sixth Form subjects – Politics. I am happy for you to email me with any queries at aendersby@tggsacademy.org

Week 1: Powerpoint 1, worksheet 1 and Week 1 Politics Review Democracy

Week 2: Powerpoint 2, worksheet 2

Week 3 onwards: Powerpoint 3, worksheet 3 and 3 Politics Review Articles.

Have a great summer - looking forward to seeing you all soon.

Mr Endersby
