Torquay Girls' Grammar School Policies

Safeguarding and Child Protection

1. Definitions:

Safeguarding is the promoting the welfare ALL children in the school; protecting them from maltreatment; preventing impairment of children's health development; ensuring that children grow up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care; taking action to enable all children to have the best outcomes. (KCSIE 2016).

Child Protection in school is one very important aspect of safeguarding. It refers to the procedures and activities that are to be undertaken to protect specific children who have been identified as suffering, or at risk of suffering, significant harm.

Child abuse is:

"anything which individuals, institutions and/or process, do or fail to do that directly or indirectly harms children or damage their prospects of safe and healthy development into adulthood" (National commission of enquiry into the prevention of child abuse).

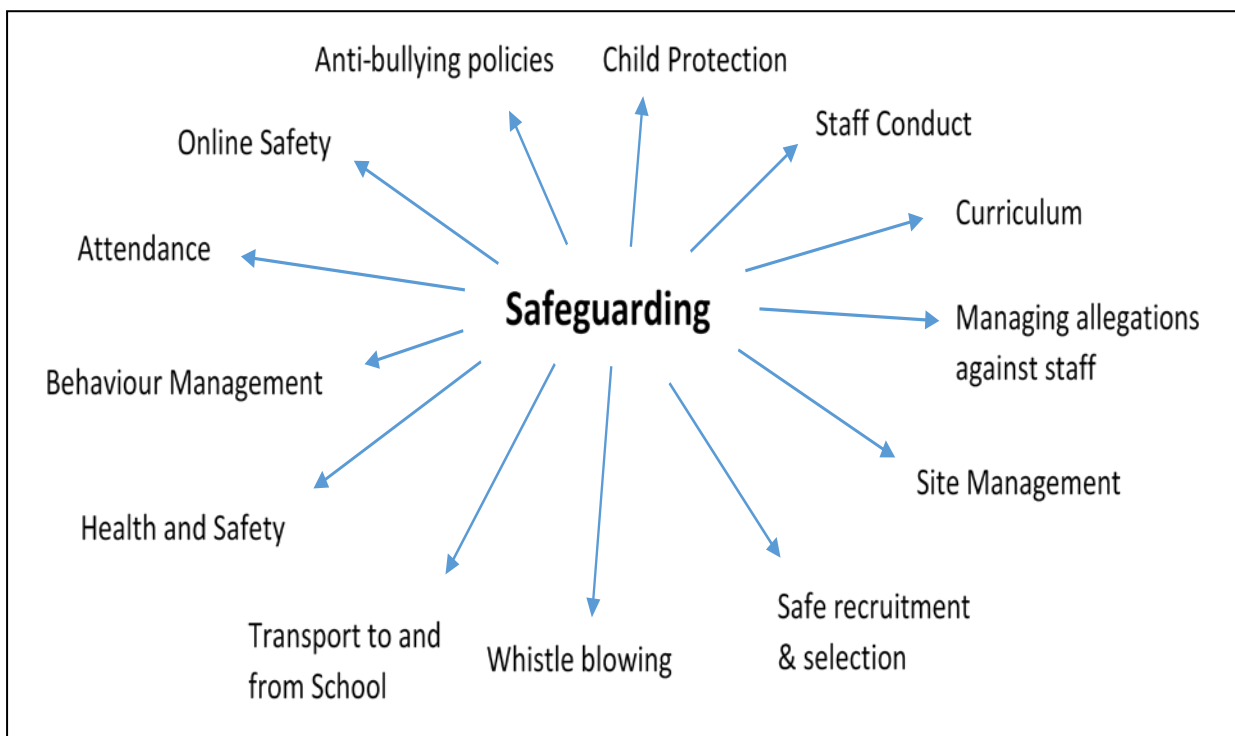

Children includes everyone under the age of 18 (Section 175 of the Education Act 2002) but it is recognised that some adults (over 18) are also vulnerable to abuse and they will also be subject at TGGS to protection under the definition of "Child Protection".

2. Legal framework and related policies

This policy has been developed in accordance with the principles of the following:

1. Section 157 of the Education Act 2002 and in line with government publications
2. 'Working Together to Safeguard Children' 2015
3. 'What to do if you're worried a child is being abused' 2015
4. 'Information Sharing 2015'
5. 'Keeping Children Safe in Education' Sept 2016

In order to safeguard and promote the welfare of children, this policy will should be read in conjunction with other related policies and documents in the school. See Appendix 3

Torquay Girls' Grammar School Policies

3. Policy Statement

Torquay Girls' Grammar School fully recognizes its statutory and moral duty to promote and safeguard the welfare of our children. The policy applies to ALL adults working in the school, including teachers, governors, support and ancillary staff, self-employed staff, contractors and volunteers.

We recognise that, because of their day to day contact with children, school staff are well placed to observe the outward signs of abuse or neglect and the changes in behaviour or demeanor which could potentially develop into a safeguarding issue (KCSIE Sept 2016).

The key areas in our policy to protect children and promote their welfare are:

- providing a safe environment for children to learn in;
- creating a culture which recognises and understands the importance of safeguarding - including listening to and discussing with children;
- identifying children who are suffering or likely to suffer significant harm, both at school/college and at home, and referring immediately any concerns to the local authority children's social care services;
- preventing unsuitable people from working with children;
- working in partnership to prevent adults and young people who are vulnerable from being drawn into violent extremism and terrorism
- having systems and processes that ensure children are kept safe and allow for poor and unsafe practice to be challenged;
- identifying instances in which there are grounds for concern about a child's welfare, and initiating or taking appropriate action to keep them safe; and
- contributing to effective partnership working between all those involved with providing safeguarding services for children.

4. Providing a Safe and Supportive Environment

Safe working practice ensures that pupils are safe and that all adults:

- are checked on appointment that they do not pose a risk of harm to children (see Recruitment and Selection Policy);
- are responsible for their own actions and behaviour and should avoid any conduct which would lead any reasonable person to question their motivation and intentions;
- work in an open and transparent way;
- discuss and/or take advice from school management over any incident which may give rise to concern;
- apply the same professional standards regardless of gender, sexuality or disability
- read and comply with the Confidentiality Policy
- are aware that breaches of the law and other professional guidelines could result in criminal or disciplinary action being taken against them;
- have read and signed to say they understand and will adhere to the document "Keeping Children Safe in Education – September 2016"; and
- will report any concerns they have about another member of staff to the head teacher or to the chair of governors, where they have concerns about the head teacher (Whistleblowing Policy, Dealing with Allegations of Abuse against Teachers and Other staff).

5. Photography and images

We will always:

- seek the pupil's and parents' consent for photographs to be taken or published (for example, on our website or in newspapers or publications);
- use only the pupil's first name with an image;
- ensure pupils are appropriately dressed; and
- encourage pupils to tell us if they are worried about any photographs that are taken of them.

Torquay Girls' Grammar School Policies

6. Extended school and off-site arrangements

Where extended school activities are provided by and managed by the school, our own Child Protection policy and procedures apply. If other organisations provide services or activities on our site we will check that they have appropriate procedures in place, including safer recruitment procedures.

When our pupils attend off-site activities, including day and residential visits and work-related activities, we will check that effective child protection arrangements are in place.

7. Safeguarding Information for pupils

It is our conduct and our relationship with children through all aspects of school life that teaches them to understand safety (and how it feels) and manage risk.

The pupils at TGGs are aware that they are able to approach any member of staff. All pupils know that there is a senior member of staff (DSL) with responsibility for child protection and know who this is.

Through the Personal, Social, Health, Citizenship and Economic (PSHCE) and Wellbeing programmes, assemblies, council meetings and the teaching and practice of British Values, we aim to give pupils the skills to manage the risks they may encounter and to overcome them. They are also reminded regularly about e-safety and tackling bullying procedures

8. Partnership with Parents

TGGs is committed to working with parents and carers positively, openly and honestly. The school respects parents' and carers' rights to privacy and confidentiality and will not share sensitive information unless we have permission or it is necessary to do so in order to protect a child.

9. Partnerships with others

Our school recognises that it is essential to establish positive and effective working relationships with other agencies who are partners in Torbay and Devon. For example Children's Services, MASH teams, Children and Adolescent Mental Health Service (CAMHS),

Torquay Girls' Grammar School Policies

The role of the Designated Safeguarding Lead (from KCSIE 2016: Annex B)

Managing Referrals

- refers and supports staff to make referrals in cases of suspected abuse to Devon or Torbay LBSCs;
- refers cases and supports staff to make referrals to the Channel programme where there is a radicalisation concern;
- refers cases where a person is dismissed or has left due to risk/harm to a child to the Disclosure and Barring Service as required;
- refers cases where a crime may have been committed to the Police as required; and.
- where a student leaves the school, arranges for the child protection file to be transferred to the new destination, separately from the main student file.

Working with others

- liaises with the Head teacher to inform him of issues; especially ongoing enquiries under section 47 of the Children Act 1989 and police investigations;
- as required, liaise with the "case manager" and the designated officer(s) at the local authority LADO for child protection concerns (or cases which concern a staff member);
- liaise with staff on matters of safety and safeguarding and when deciding whether to make a referral by liaising with relevant agencies. Act as a source of support, advice and expertise for staff; and
- informs the LA when a student under 16 (or 18 if disabled) is in a private fostering arrangement.

Training

The designated safeguarding lead (and any deputies) should undergo child protection refresher training (including PREVENT) at least every two years and update knowledge and skills regularly so as to:

- understand the assessment process for providing early help and intervention, for example through locally agreed common and shared assessment processes;
- have a working knowledge of how local authorities conduct a child protection case conference and a child protection review conference and be able to attend and contribute to these effectively when required to do so;
- ensure each member of staff has access to and understands the school's child protection policy and procedures including the document "Keeping Children Safe in Education 2006", especially new and part time staff;
- be alert to the specific needs of children in need, those with special educational needs, young carers and Looked-after Children (CLAs);
- be able to keep detailed, accurate, secure written records of concerns and referrals;
- understand and support the school with regards to the requirements of the Prevent duty and is able to provide advice and support to staff on protecting children from the risk of radicalisation;
- obtain access to resources and attend any relevant or refresher training courses; and
- encourage a culture of listening to children and taking account of their wishes and feelings, among all staff, in any measures the school or college may put in place to protect them.

Raising Awareness

The designated safeguarding lead should:

- ensure the school or college's child protection policies are known, understood and used appropriately;
- ensure the school or college's child protection policy is reviewed annually (as a minimum) and the procedures and implementation are updated and reviewed regularly, and work with governing bodies regarding this;
- ensure the child protection policy is available publicly and parents are aware of the fact that referrals about suspected abuse or neglect may be made and the role of the school or college in this; and
- link with the local LSCB to make sure staff are aware of training opportunities and the latest local policies on safeguarding.

Torquay Girls' Grammar School Policies

Availability

During term time, the DSL or deputy DSL will always be available during school hours. Out of hours the DSL may be contacted by email ecross@tggsacademy.org.

The Deputy DSL

Is appropriately trained and, in the absence of the DSL, carries out those functions necessary to ensure the ongoing safety and protection of pupils. In the event of the long-term absence of the DSL the head teacher and governing body will nominate a replacement.

The Head teacher:

- ensures that the child protection policy and procedures are implemented and followed by all staff;
- allocates sufficient time and resources to enable the DSL and deputy to carry out their roles effectively, including the assessment of pupils and attendance at strategy discussions, training and other necessary meetings;
- ensures that all staff feel able to raise concerns about poor or unsafe practice and that such concerns are handled sensitively and in accordance with the whistle blowing procedures; and
- ensures that pupils' safety and welfare are addressed through the curriculum.
- ensures that the above policies and procedures, adopted by governing bodies and proprietors, particularly concerning referrals of cases of suspected abuse and neglect, are followed by all staff.

The Governing Body:

- will identify a designated safeguarding lead to take responsibility for child protection, who is a member of the senior leadership team, and individuals to deputise when he/she is unavailable;
- will ensure that there are effective child protection policies with clear procedures in place. These should include the Child protection Policy and the Staff Code of Conduct and references to related school policies and documents;
- will receive an annual report on changes to the Safeguarding and Child Protection policy and procedures to include
 - the training undertaken by the safeguarding team, other staff, volunteers and governors;
 - the numbers of child protection incidents;
 - other cases without names or details;
 - the provision for safeguarding in the curriculum; and
 - taking action where there are allegations against the head teacher;
- will ensure that the child protection policy describes procedures in accordance with government guidance and those of Devon and Torbay Local Safeguarding Children Boards (LSCB), be updated annually (as a minimum), and be available publicly either via the school website or by other means; and
- will put in place appropriate safeguarding responses to children who go missing from education, particularly on repeat occasions, to help identify the risk of abuse and neglect including sexual abuse or exploitation and to help prevent the risks of their going missing in future.

The Staff:

All staff members at Torquay Girls' Grammar School have a responsibility to be aware and attentive to the safeguarding of children. They have "a role to play in identifying concerns, sharing information and taking prompt action" (KCSIE 2016). It is the responsibility of all staff to report their concerns to the DSL.

Teachers' standards 2012 state that teachers should safeguard children's wellbeing and maintain public trust in the teaching profession as part of their professional duties.

All staff should be familiar with the types and indicators of abuse as outlined in "Keeping Children Safe in Education – Sept 2016 " and summarized in Appendices 1 and 2 of this document.

Torquay Girls' Grammar School Policies

All school staff should:

- read and comply with the school Code of Conduct;
- provide a safe environment in which children can learn;
- know the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) and be aware of systems within their school or college which support safeguarding (Child Protection, Staff Code of Conduct and "Keeping Children Safe in Education 2016" which should be provided at staff induction);
- receive safeguarding and child protection training with updates (for example, via email, e-bulletins and staff meetings), as required, but at least annually, to provide them with relevant skills and knowledge to safeguard children effectively;
- be aware of the early help process and understand their role in it – this includes identifying emerging problems, liaising with the DSL and sharing information with other professionals;
- be aware of the process for making referrals to children's social care and the role they may be required to play a part in assessments;
- know what to do if a child disclosed that he/she is being abused or neglected and to maintain an appropriate level of confidentiality, liaising with the DSL and social care;
- never promise a child not to tell anyone about an allegation, as this may ultimately not be in the interests of the child; and
- report to the DSL any student under 16 (or under 18 if disabled) who may be in a private fostering arrangement. Where pupils are staying with host families, where there is no DBS system (as in foreign exchange visits) the schools agree a procedure which has been approved by Evolve.

11. Guidelines for staff when a child discloses abuse.

It takes a lot of courage for a child to disclose that they are being abused. They may feel ashamed, particularly if the abuse is sexual. Their abuser may have threatened what will happen if they tell. They may have lost all trust in adults or they may believe, or have been told, that the abuse is their own fault.

If a pupil talks to a member of staff about any risks to their safety or wellbeing, the staff member will need to let the pupil know that they must pass the information on should they believe anyone is at risk. This must be clear but also communicated with care and sensitivity so as not to undermine children's trust.

If the child discloses information to the member of staff, he/she should:

- Allow the child to speak freely
- Listen quietly and encouragingly.
- Remain calm and caring.
- Allow the child to finish.
- Ask open (not leading) questions.
- Explain he/she may have to tell someone.
- Give reassuring nods or words of comfort – 'I'm so sorry this has happened', 'I want to help', 'this isn't your fault', 'you are doing the right thing in talking to me'.
- Record the conversation as soon as possible (facts only - in child's own words if possible). And
- Refer to the DSL immediately.

He/she should not:

- Postpone or delay the opportunity to listen
- Be afraid of silences – staff must remember how hard this must be for the pupil.
- Ask investigative or leading questions – such as 'how many times this has happened?', 'does it happen to siblings too?'
- Allow his/her own feelings, such as anger, shock, pity, to surface.
- Put words into the child's mouth
- Make a promise of secrecy.
- Interpret what has been told, just report it.

Torquay Girls' Grammar School Policies

- Admonish the child for not disclosing earlier by saying things such as 'I do wish you had told me about this when it started'.
- Discuss the information with anyone other than the AHoY, DSL or the appropriate external agency.

12. Disclosure and Referral procedures (see also Appendix 2- action flowchart)

- All procedures are in line with "Keeping Children Safe in Education" 2016 and with local procedures in Torbay and Devon.
- Any member of staff receiving a disclosure of abuse or suspects that abuse may have occurred must report it immediately to the DSL. This includes concerns about abuse which may involve staff members.
- If appropriate the DSL will inform the Local Children Safeguarding Board (LSCB) at the
- Torbay Multi Agency Safeguarding HUB (MASH) on 01803 208100 (for children resident in Torbay) or the Devon MASH on 0345 1551071 (for children resident in Devon).
- If, at any point, there is a risk of immediate serious harm to a child a referral should be made straightaway by phone or ring the police on 999.
- If Early Help is appropriate, the DSL should support the staff member in liaising with other agencies and setting up an inter-agency assessment as appropriate. The case should be kept under constant review and consideration given to a referral to children's social care if the child's situation does not seem to be improving.
- If teachers, in the course of their work, discover that an act of Female Genital Mutilation appears to have been carried out on a girl under the age of 18, they must report this to the police. (KCSIE Sept 2016)
- Generally school staff will discuss their concerns with parents and carers and advise them of any referrals, unless it is considered that this would place the child at risk of harm.
- Confidentiality must be maintained and information relating to individual students and families shared with staff on a strictly "need to know" basis.
- Anybody can make a referral. If the child's situation does not appear to be improving the DSL and/or staff member with concerns should press for reconsideration.

13. Meetings and Physical contact with pupils

- Staff and volunteers should be aware that private meetings with individual pupils may give rise to concern. One-to-one interviews should be conducted in a room with visible access, or with the door open or with other pupils or adults present or nearby. Meetings away from the school premises should only be arranged with the specific approval of the head teacher
- Physical conduct may be misconstrued by a pupil, parent or observer. Touching pupils, including well-intentioned informal and informal gestures such as putting a hand on the shoulder or arm, can, if repeated regularly, lead to serious questions being asked.
- As a general principle, staff must not make gratuitous physical contact with their pupils. It is particularly unwise to attribute their touching to their teaching style or as a way of relating to pupils.
- Any form of physical punishment of pupils is unlawful as is any form of physical response to misbehavior unless it is by way of restraint. It is important that staff understand this both to protect their own position and the overall reputation of the school.
- Physical contact may be acceptable when a distressed pupil needs comfort or reassurance which may include physical comforting such that a caring parent might give. Staff should use their discretion in such cases and, again, ensure that other pupils or adults are present.

14. Good practice guidelines

- Treating all pupils with care
- Setting a good example
- Involving pupils in decisions that affect them
- Encouraging caring, respectful and safe behaviour among pupils
- Being a good listener

Torquay Girls' Grammar School Policies

- Being alert to changes in pupils' behaviour
- Recognising that dis-regulated behaviour may be an indicator of abuse
- reading and understanding the school's child protection and safeguarding policy
- Asking the pupil's permission before initiating physical contact, such as assisting with Dressing, physical support during PE or administering first aid
- Being attentive to standards of conversation and interaction with and between pupils and avoiding the use of sexualised and/or derogatory language
- Being aware that the personal and family circumstances and lifestyles of some pupils lead to an increased risk of abuse
- Applying the use of reasonable force only as a last resort and in compliance with school, Torbay and Devon procedures.

15. Children who may be particularly vulnerable

Some children live under an increased risk of abuse. Some examples would be: living away from home, being affected by parental substance misuse, being bullied, or engaging in bullying. Many factors can contribute to an increase in risk, including prejudice and discrimination, isolation, social exclusion, communication issues and reluctance on the part of some adults to accept that abuse can occur.

To ensure that all of students receive equal protection, TGGs will give special consideration to children who are:

- Disabled or have special educational needs.
- Young carers.
- Living in a domestic abuse situation.
- Affected by parental substance misuse.
- Asylum seekers.
- Looked after by the Local Authority.
- Otherwise living away from home.
- Vulnerable to being bullied, or engaging in bullying behaviours.
- Living in temporary accommodation.
- Living transient lifestyles.
- Living in chaotic and unsupportive home situations.
- Vulnerable to discrimination and maltreatment on the grounds of race, ethnicity, religion, disability or sexuality.
- Involved directly or indirectly in child sexual exploitation (CSE).
- Do not have English as a first language.
- At risk of female genital mutilation (FGM) or forced marriage.
- At risk of becoming radicalised, involved in gangs and/or violent extremism.
- Vulnerable to discrimination and maltreatment on the grounds of race, ethnicity, religion, disability or sexuality.

16. Confidentiality

- The Head Teacher or DSL will disclose any information about a pupil to other members of staff on a need to know basis only.
- All staff are aware that they have a professional responsibility to share information with other agencies in order to safeguard children.
- All staff are aware that they cannot promise a child to keep secrets which might compromise the child's safety or wellbeing.
- We will always undertake to share our intention to refer a child to Torbay Children's Services with their parents/carers unless to do so could put the child at greater risk of harm, or impede a criminal investigation. If in doubt, we will consult with Torbay Children's Services on this point.

Torquay Girls' Grammar School Policies

17. Staff training

The DSL will undertake training on child protection at least every 2 years (statutory requirement). The DSL will also be supported to access inter-agency training as part of their continuing professional development.

- Any newly appointed DSL will be trained before taking lead responsibility for safeguarding. The deputy DSL will take a leading role on safeguarding for the short time that the DSL is waiting to receive training.
- The designated Governor for Safeguarding and Child Protection will undertake governor safeguarding training at least once every 2 years.
- All members of staff will receive training on child protection at least once every 2 years. This is recognised as good practice and will endeavour to meet this standard.
- All new members of staff will receive child protection training as part of their induction programme.
- Briefings and updates on child protection and safeguarding procedures will be provided on a regular basis, at least annually, but more frequently when necessary, to ensure that all members of staff are familiar with any changes to the school policy as they occur.

Torquay Girls' Grammar School Policies

Appendix 1 - types and indicators of abuse

Physical abuse

Physical abuse is a form of abuse which may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child (this used to be called Munchausen's Syndrome by Proxy, but is now more usually referred to as fabricated or induced illness).

Emotional abuse

Emotional abuse is the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and persistent adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve conveying to a child that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, although it may occur alone.

Sexual abuse

Sexual abuse involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving a high level of violence, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example, rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse (including via the internet). Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children.

Neglect

Neglect is the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may occur during pregnancy as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to:

- provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment).
- protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger.
- ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate care-givers); or
- ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment. It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

(Definitions taken from "Working Together to Safeguard Children" (HM Government, 2013))

Domestic Abuse is any incident or pattern of incidents of controlling, coercive, threatening behaviour, violence or abuse between those aged 16 or over who are or have been intimate partners or family members regardless of gender or sexuality. It can encompass but is not limited to psychological, physical, sexual, financial, emotional abuse.

Torquay Girls' Grammar School Policies

Indicators of abuse

Physical signs define some types of abuse, for example, bruising, bleeding or broken bones resulting from physical or sexual abuse, or injuries sustained while a child has been inadequately supervised. The identification of physical signs is complicated, as children may go to great lengths to hide injuries, often because they are ashamed or embarrassed, or their abuser has threatened further violence or trauma if they 'tell'. It is also quite difficult for anyone without medical training to categorise injuries into accidental or deliberate with any degree of certainty. For these reasons it is vital that staff are also aware of the range of behavioural indicators of abuse and report any concerns to the designated senior person.

A child who is being abused or neglected may:

- have bruises, bleeding, burns, fractures or other injuries;
- show signs of pain or discomfort;
- keep arms and legs covered, even in warm weather;
- be concerned about changing for PE or swimming;
- look unkempt and uncared for;
- change their eating habits;
- have difficulty in making or sustaining friendships;
- appear fearful;
- become aggressive/over demanding/attention seeking;
- be reckless with regard to their own or other's safety;
- self-harm;
- frequently miss school or arrive late;
- show signs of not wanting to go home;
- display a change in behaviour – from quiet to aggressive, or happy-go-lucky to withdrawn;
- challenge authority;
- become disinterested in their school work;
- produce unusual creative work e.g. writing, drawing, painting;
- be constantly tired or preoccupied;
- be wary of physical contact;
- be involved in, or particularly knowledgeable about drugs or alcohol;
- display sexual knowledge or behaviour beyond that normally expected for their age;
- withdraw or be seen as a "loner" – difficulty relating to others; or
- be listless, apathetic and irresponsive with no apparent medical cause.

The parent or carer may:

- persistently avoid child health promotion services and treatment of the child's episodic illnesses;
- have unrealistic expectations of the child;
- frequently complain about/to the child and may fail to provide attention or praise (high criticism/low warmth environment);
- be absent or misusing substances;
- persistently refuse to allow access on home visits; or
- be involved in domestic abuse

Appendix 2 - Specific safeguarding concerns in South-West England (Ian Freeland HMI)

Child Sexual Exploitation (CSE)

"Child sexual exploitation is a form of child sexual abuse. It occurs where an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance of power to coerce, manipulate or deceive a child or young person under the age of 18 into sexual activity (a) in exchange for something the victim needs or wants, and/or (b) for the financial advantage or increased status of the perpetrator or facilitator. The victim may have been sexually exploited even if the sexual activity appears consensual. Child sexual exploitation does not always involve physical contact; it can also occur through the use of technology". (DfE Child Sexual Exploitation – Definition and a guide for practitioners February 2017)

In all cases, those exploiting the child/young person have power over them by virtue of their age, gender, intellect, physical strength and/or economic or other resources. Violence, coercion and intimidation are common, involvement in exploitative relationships being characterised in the main by the child or young person's limited availability of choice resulting from their social/economic and/or emotional vulnerability. The following list of indicators is not exhaustive or definitive but it does highlight common signs which can assist professionals in identifying children or young people who may be victims of sexual exploitation.

Signs include:

- underage sexual activity;
- inappropriate sexual or sexualised behaviour;
- sexually risky behaviour, 'swapping' sex;
- sexually transmitted infections and pregnancy;
- receiving unexplained gifts or gifts from unknown sources;
- having multiple mobile phones and worrying about losing contact via mobile;
- unsafe internet usage leading to becoming at risk of grooming;
- having unaffordable new things (clothes, mobile) or expensive habits (alcohol, drugs);
- changes in the way they dress;
- going to hotels or other unusual locations to meet friends;
- seen at known places of concern;
- moving around the country, appearing in new towns or cities, not knowing where they are getting in/out of different cars driven by unknown adults;
- having older boyfriends or girlfriends;
- contact with known perpetrators;
- involved in abusive relationships, intimidated and fearful of certain people or situations;
- hanging out with groups of older people, or anti-social groups, or with other vulnerable peers;
- recruiting other young people to exploitative situations;
- truancy, exclusion, disengagement with school, opting out of education altogether;
- unexplained changes in behaviour or personality (chaotic, aggressive, sexual);
- mood swings, volatile behaviour, emotional distress;
- self-harming, suicidal thoughts, suicide attempts, overdosing, eating disorders;
- drug or alcohol misuse; or
- getting involved in crime.

Female Genital Mutilation (FGM) mandatory reporting duty

FGM comprises all procedures involving partial or total removal of the external female genitalia or other injury to the female genital organs. It is illegal in the UK and a form of child abuse with long-lasting harmful consequences.

Teachers, along with regulated health and social care professionals in England and Wales, have a statutory duty to report to the police where they discover that FGM appears to have been carried out on a girl under 18, either through disclosure by the victim or visual evidence. No examinations should be carried out. They should also consult with the DSL and involve children's social care as soon as possible.

Where the woman is over 18, teachers should follow local safeguarding procedures.

(Female Genital Mutilation Act 2003 and KCSIE 2016)

Signs that may indicate a child has undergone FGM:

- Prolonged absence from school and other activities.
- Behaviour change on return from a holiday abroad, such as being withdrawn and appearing subdued
- Bladder or menstrual problems.
- Finding it difficult to sit still and looking uncomfortable.
- Complaining about pain between the legs.
- Mentioning something somebody did to them that they are not allowed to talk about.
- Secretive behaviour, including isolating themselves from the group.
- Reluctance to take part in physical activity.
- Repeated urinal tract infection.
- Disclosure.

Forced marriage and honour-based violence (HBV)

Forcing a person into a marriage is a crime in England and Wales. A forced marriage is one entered into without the full and free consent of one or both parties and where violence, threats or any other form of coercion is used to cause a person to enter into a marriage. Threats can be physical or emotional and psychological. A lack of full and free consent can be where a person does not consent or where they cannot consent (if they have learning disabilities, for example). Nevertheless, some communities use religion and culture as a way to coerce a person into marriage.

Schools and colleges can play an important role in safeguarding children from forced marriage.

School and college staff can contact the Forced Marriage Unit if they need advice or information: Contact: 020 7008 0151 or email fm@fco.gov.uk.

Peer-on-Peer abuse

Peer-on-Peer abuse can include any kind of abuse perpetrated by a child of a similar or the same age as the victim and may include physical, verbal, emotional, sexual or cyberbullying where there is an imbalance of power or where the behaviour is repeated. ("Keeping Children Safe in Education" (Sept 2016))

All staff should note the following paragraphs (KCSIE 2016):

42. All staff should be aware that safeguarding issues can manifest themselves via peer on peer abuse. This is most likely to include, but may not be limited to, bullying (including cyberbullying), gender based violence/sexual assaults and sexting. Staff should be clear as to the school or college's policy and procedures with regards to peer on peer abuse. (KCSIE p.12)

76. Staff should recognise that children are capable of abusing their peers. Governing bodies and proprietors should ensure their child protection policy includes procedures to minimise the risk of peer on peer abuse and sets out how allegations of peer on peer abuse will be investigated and dealt with. The policy should reflect the different forms peer on peer abuse can take, make clear that abuse is abuse and should never be tolerated or passed off as "banter" or "part of growing up". It should be clear as to how victims of peer on peer abuse will be supported. (KCSIE p.19)

Peer-on-peer is not just bullying, it is "abusive" and "violent", although there is bullying behaviour within it. One definition is that it is:

"Physical, sexual, emotional and financial abuse, and coercive control, exercised within young people's relationships". (Firmin 2013)

It may be found in the following where it occurs between young people under 18:

- domestic abuse where young people are experiencing abuse and coercion in intimate relationships;
- Child Sexual Exploitation (CSE);
- Sexually harmful behavior;

- Gang and youth violence;
- Bullying including Cyberbullying: and/or
- Children Missing Education (CME)

Particular groups vulnerable to peer-on-peer abuse might be:

- those aged 10 and upwards (although some research has found victims as young as 8);
- girls and young women are more likely to be victims / boys and young men more likely to be abusers;
- black and minority ethnic children often under identified as victims and over-identified as perpetrators;
- young people with intra-familial abuse in their histories, or those living with domestic abuse, are more likely to be vulnerable;
- young people in care, and those who have experienced a loss of a parent, sibling or friend through bereavement, also feature as those who have abused, or been abused by, their peers; and
- “reluctant” gangsters where young people are asked to undertake tasks for the group in order to be admitted within it. They will not refuse out of fear of retribution.

Examples of peer-on-peer abuse are:

- the sexual harassment and abuse of girls being accepted as part of daily life;
- children of primary school age learning about sex and relationships through exposure to hard-core pornography;
- teachers/adults accepting sexual harassment as being “just banter”; and
- parents struggling to know how they can best support their children

Individual indicators, in isolation, do not necessarily provide conclusive evidence of abuse. They should be viewed as part of a jigsaw, and each small piece of information will help the DSL to decide how to proceed. It is very important that staff report their concerns – they do not need 'absolute proof' that the child is at risk.
